

Answering your questions on waste management

As we enter the new decade, businesses can expect to see an increased emphasis on business waste and changes in the way this waste is both handled and regulated. A number of drivers will fuel this change, such as the landfill tax increase on 1 April, bans on certain types of waste going to landfill and increased pressure to reduce carbon footprints.

For many business managers and owners, following and understanding this rapidly changing picture is likely to prove challenging – particularly in the face of competing or conflicting priorities.

For this reason, Hills Waste Solutions, Swindon's leading waste management company, is extending an invitation to local businesses to attend a complimentary breakfast event entitled 'Effective and Compliant Waste Management'.

Aimed at all business types, the event will provide guidance and advice about waste regulations and how to improve sustainability. Topics to be addressed include your obligations as a producer of waste; what to expect from your waste management provider; how to get value for money and what the future holds for your waste.

"This is a perfect opportunity for businesses to come along and benefit from expert advice regarding their waste management issues," commented Julian Cope, commercial manager for Hills. "Following the presentation there will be the opportunity for one-to-one sessions with our waste management and recycling experts."

The event is being held at the Swindon Marriott Hotel on Wednesday 24th March from 8.30am – 10.00am. Please contact Clare Brewer on 01793 714450 to book your place or email cbrewer@hills-group.co.uk. Booking early is recommended as spaces will be limited.
